

The Islamic Studies Research Network
at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro

presents

In This Skin a photography exhibition

In a recent course, Professor Sahar Amer (Department of History, UNC-CH) challenged her students to wear the veil for one day on campus. Each student created dual photographs, one in hijab and one self-portrait, and wrote brief reflections on their projects. “In This Skin” features these image and word expressions. At the opening, Professor Amer and her students will discuss veiling and the creation of the exhibit. We are all a lot more than we wear.

Thursday, November 7, 4:30
Center for Creative Writing in the Arts, 127 McIver Street
(Just opposite the McIver Parking Deck)

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
For more information, please contact Alyssa Gabbay (abgabbay@uncg.edu)