You can now minor in Islamic Studies at UNCG! Expand your knowledge of the principles and practices of one of the world’s most rapidly growing religions and explore how Islam has shaped history, language, and politics on a global scale.

Requirements: Six courses, including one year of beginning Arabic and either HIS 207 OR REL 225.

The following classes in the minor will be offered in Spring 2021:
- ARB 102-01, Beginning Arabic II, MWF 10-10:50am [HYBRID] (Prof. Noor Ghazi)*
- REL 323-01, Islam in India, TTh 12:30–1:45pm [WI][ONLINE] (Prof. Alyssa Gabbay)
- ADS 356-01, The Making of the African Diaspora, TTh, 11-12:15pm [ONLINE] (Prof. Hewan Girma)
- HIS 414-01 Borders and Frontiers in the Classical and Medieval Mediterranean, MW 3:30–4:45pm (Prof. Asa Eger)
- PSC 355J-01 Selected Topics in Comparative Politics: Middle East Politics, MW 2-3:15pm [ONLINE] (Prof. Jerry Pubantz)

*This class is required for the minor.

Questions? E-mail Prof. Alyssa Gabbay abgabbay@uncg.edu or Prof. Asa Eger aaeger@uncg.edu. (https://rel.uncg.edu/islamic-studies/minor/)